WORKING BEE TO CLEAN UP PARK THURSDAY

Everyone Invited To Help In This Worthy Civic Proposition

LOTS OF FUN AND AMUSEMENT

The bee will buzz at the Clearfield Driving Park next Thursday. A working bee will be held on that day to give the public in general an opportunity in helping to clean-up and re-plant the park in preparation for the County Fair which will be held from the twelfth to the fifteenth of September.

The park has recently been taken over by the Clearfield Park association, which organization will convert the grounds into a recreation place for the public and to clean up the grounds and erect new ones, and to clean up the grove to present an attractive appearance before the fair days.

Everyone is cordially invited to come when he pleases and to leave when he is tired. This is a civic proposition and everyone should help in converting the park into an attractive spot. No difference whether you are a business man, a professional man or a country official or a working man you are urged to come over to the park and bring a hoe, a shovel, a hammer or a saw and help in this work.

A large force of men have been busy for the past few weeks cleaning up and repairing, but there is much work to be done yet so that the committee in charge of this work have decided that a bee be held. Several of the prominent business men of town have already expressed their intention of being present and it is hoped all the rest will do likewise.

It won't all be work as there will be a lot of fun, sport and amusement for you come out. If you can't work come and help in making this pleasant day. Thursday, all day.

GULICH-CARLSON.

Miss Gulich and Miss Nora Carlson, motored to Curwensville Saturday and were quietly married at 11 o'clock by Rev. Hopkins of the Lutheran church. Ellen Anderson of DuBois and Jennie Carlson accompanied them and Olive Gulich also witnessed the ceremony. After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Gulich, Ellen Anderson and Jennie Carlson motored to DuBois where Mr. and Mrs. Gulich took the train for Buffalo, Niagara Falls and to Toronto Fair in Canada. They expect to be gone a week after which they will make their home in Clearfield where the groom holds a responsible position with the Harbison Walker Ref. Co.

COUNTRY CLUB ATTRACTS MANY ON LABOR DAY

Clearfield Defeats Houltzdale At Driving Park Before Extra Large Crowd

MANY PICNICS ARE HELD

There was no public observance of Labor Day in Clearfield yesterday although the stores and manufacturing plants of the town were closed down and employees enjoyed an ideal day of rest. Many private picnics and a base ball game at the Driving Park furnished amusement for many people. A great number of Clearfielders went out of town for the day, many going to DuBois and Philipsburg where big celebrations were held.

Yesterday was probably the biggest day of the season at the Clearfield-Curwensville Country Club where about two hundred of the more prominent residents of the two towns spent the day. An extra attractive program had been prepared by the entertainment committee for the occasion.

One of the chief features of the program was the mixed foursome match play in which sixteen men and ladies participated. Mr. Russell and Miss Dyer of Curwensville made the lowest scores. The following couples entered:

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Reed
Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Shillingford.
Mr. and Mrs. William Bigler,
Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Moore,
Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Douglass,
Miss Dyer and Mr. Russell,
Miss White and H. F. Bigler, Jr.
Miss Powell and Samuel Powell

On Saturday the finals of the second group of the men's golf tournament were played off. Cortez Bell won the tournament by defeating H. B. Hartwick by a small margin.

The Curwensville Citizens band gave a concert at the club house in the afternoon which was much enjoyed by all who heard it. Cards and golf furnished the entertainment of the afternoon and dancing in the evening.

McKinley's orchestra of Curwensville furnished the music for the dancing.

CARD OF THANKS.

Mrs. W. D. Cox and son wish to thank the friends and neighbors and the Ladies Society of the B. L. F. & E., for the kindness shown during their bereavement, the death of husband and father, W. D. Cox. Also for the beautiful floral gifts.

EXPRESS THANKS.

The ladies of the Junior and Senior Hospital auxiliaries desire to thank each and every person who helped in making the play "Betty's Campaign" a success. They wish especially to thank the members of the cast and chorus for their faithful services rendered.

TRUE BILL IN DOWNEY CASE

The September Grand Jury under the guiding hand of Jim Fletcher are grinding out true bills and no bills at a high rate of speed. It is doubtful if a grand jury ever put in a more strenuous day than yesterday and the trial list has been put in shape for the court to go ahead at their pleasure on most any case on the calendar.

Grand Jury Findings.

The Grand Jury passed on the following bills of indictment Monday:

Com. vs. Mike Yuhasz, murder, true bill.

Com. vs. Clara Stiffler and Roxie Stiffler, assault and battery; Verma Wright, pros. Bill ignored and prosecution pay costs.

Com. vs. D. O. Downing, a and b, aggravated assault and battery, etc., Anthony Hile, pros. True bill.

Com. vs. Lewis Neving, assault and battery; S. G. Warrick, pros. True bill.

Com. vs. John Pedro, assault and battery and aggravated assault and battery; John Patrick, pros. Bill ignored.

Com. vs. Mrs. Susie Rusnak, common scold; Mrs. Annie Tonda, pros. True bill.

Com. vs. H. R. Burns, assault and battery; J. R. Clark, pros. True bill.

Com. vs. Joseph Coudinet, Roy Coudinet, Frank Woodling, breaking and entering and larceny, G. W. Swisher, pros. True bill.

True bills were also returned in two cases wherein crimes against morality were charged, while for the first time on record a bill was ignored in a case of this character.

PAY TRIBUTE TO MEMORY OF WILDERNESS PREACHER

Pleasant Hill, Pleasant Plains, Ill. Sept. 5.—Hundreds of persons in this section of Illinois today made a pilgrimage to the grave of Peter Cartwright, the preacher of the wilderness who, in pre-Civil War days taught religious duties to the people of the central part of Illinois.

Hundreds of persons attending the 93rd Methodist conference at Springfield came here to pay their respects to the memory of the pioneer preacher.

The preacher was a candidate for Congress against Abraham Lincoln in 1864. He is looked upon as having been one of the greatest churchmen of the Methodist faith.

Among those here today were members of the Illinois Historical Society including Senator Lawrence Y. Sherman, State Treasurer Russell, President James of Illinois University and former Governor Yates.

BRITISH CANNOT MELT GOLD COIN FOR WORKERS.

London, Sept. 5.—England's famous Defense of the Realm act, that elastic piece of legislation framed by Parliament at the beginning of the war, has again been stretched. This latest stretch prohibits the melting down of gold coins.

This measure becomes necessary, it was learned today, because of the enormous wastage of the nation's gold reserves caused by the reduction of gold coins for the manufacture of jewelry for which the exceptionally high wages of the war workers have created an extensive demand.

ROADSTER GOES OVER BANK AT CENTER CHURCH

Four Young Clearfield Girls Have Narrow Escapes When Car Is Knocked Off Road

PROTHONOTARY HAS ACCIDENT

Four popular Clearfield girls had a narrow escape from serious injury Sunday afternoon when a Ford runabout in which they were riding went over an embankment near the Centerville M. E. church and turned turtle. The car was badly smashed but the girls all escaped with only slight bruises and cuts.

The accident occurred about 3:20 o'clock when Misses Mary and Margaret Waterworth, Helene Lytle and Ruth Dempsey were returning from a ride to Curwensville. When near the Center church an automobile containing Mrs. Angeline Lucas, Edward Lucas, Misses Edna and Wilda Lucas of Punxsutawney drove up behind them and attempted to pass and at the same moment a big touring car going in the opposite direction drove into view at terrific speed. Miss Lucas, who was driving the Punxsy car saw she could not get past in time so she swung her car around trying to fall back behind the Waterworth car.

Miss Lucas became confused and drove into the car containing the four girls which was over to the extreme right of the road, and knocked it off the road over an embankment about three feet in height. The back fender of the Waterworth car struck a tree which caused it to turn turtle, smashing on its side. The car was badly damaged, the windshield being smashed, the radius rod bent and other parts injured.

Fortunately none of the girls were seriously injured. Miss Lucas, who was driving the other car, received a severe shock. The car going in the direction of Curwensville did not stop and the number of the car was invisible on account of the dust.

Prothonotary Has Accident.

While driving toward Clearfield about four o'clock Sunday afternoon John H. Moore's car was crowded off the street into a ditch beside the road near Lumber City and badly smashed. None of the occupants were hurt except Mrs. Moore who was thrown out against a rock and received bruises on her thigh.

The accident occurred on a sharp turn on this side of Lumber City. Mr. Moore was rounding the curve at an exceptionally low rate of speed when a big touring car came around in the opposite direction on the left hand side of the road, going about forty miles an hour. Mr. Moore, realizing the danger drove into the ditch at the side of the road, his car scraping a rock, damaging the running board. The man going in the opposite direction was clear over Mr. Moore's side and had it not been for Mr. Moore driving into the ditch, the other car would have gone over a fifty foot embankment.

Accident at Hogback.

Mr. and Mrs. Scott W. Norris and family narrowly escaped serious injury on the notorious Hogback Hill Sunday evening. They were returning to Clearfield from a visit to up river relatives when the steering gear broke on their car while descending the hill. The car was ditched and the occupants thrown out, but fortunately all escaped serious injury, although badly shaken up and bruised.

Two Hurt by Motorcycle.

A motorcycle skidded down from under Fred Dale and Charles Barger employees at Ellenberger's grocery store, while howling along the state road near Osceola at a 40 mile gait Monday afternoon. Both riders were badly used up, Mr. Barger being unconscious for a couple of hours, but luckily escaped with severe cuts and bruises. Mr. Barger was the more seriously injured and was taken to

PLEA OF BANK ROBBER WILL BE INSANITY

Tells Progress Representative What Transpired at Curwensville Seems a Dream

WILL ASK COURT FOR MEXICO

When court opened this morning, D. O. Downing was called before the bar to answer to the indictments returned against him yesterday. He was accompanied by his counsel, W. B. Harwick, Esq., and pleaded guilty to every count in both indictments.

Mr. Downing in conversation with a representative of the Progress, stated that the whole transaction appeared as a dream to him; that he had no recollection of any of the happenings immediately preceding the attempted bank robbery; that he had been in bad health for some time and had been at work repairing a broken-down automobile for two days immediately preceding the crime. He said he had not had any sleep the night before had quit work suffering from severe pains in his head and when he left Tyroce on Sunday when he arrived in Curwensville. He said he had never been in Curwensville bank previous to his attempted robbery and only avowed to be connected with his crime and confessed after he had time to rest and reflect on his thoughts in the quiet of his cell at the county jail.

He expressed great remorse for his crime and will throw himself on the mercy of the court.

He is the father of six children, 5 of whom are under twenty years of age, and as his wife is in delicate health he feels that the unfortunate and helpless condition of his family ought to have some weight in his behalf when his crime and his punishment are balanced in the scales of justice.

GRIDIRON PRACTICE STARTED.

New Haven, Conn., Sept. 4.—As a forerunner of the Yale football season of 1916 the candidates for the team donned their uniforms today and appeared on the field for the beginning of preliminary practice. More than 100 candidates reported, forming the largest squad in the history of the game at Old Eli. During the next few weeks the candidates will be put through their paces and the team sifted out under the watchful eyes of the new coaching staff, which includes Tad Jones, Dr. William T. Bull, Dr. Arthur Bridges, William F. Sweeney, Jack Cates, Nate Whaler, and William Marting.

DOCTORS' FEES RAISED.

The doctors of Clearfield have found it necessary to moderately increase their fees. The necessity of an advance has been apparent ever since the jump in the prices of drugs and everything else that is used in medical and surgical practice.

An advance in fees is in effect in most of the communities all over the state and has been for months. Among the fees that will take effect on Wednesday, September 6th are the following: Minimum day call, $1.00 and 50 cents additional for each additional patient in the house. Night call, $2.00, and in order to give the physician a chance for needed rest and restoration night calls will mean all calls in which the patient asks that the call be made between the hours of 8 p. m. and 7 a. m.

All calls that reach the doctor's office before 6 p. m. will be made on day fees regardless of the hour of the actual visit. Calls asked to be made during office hours will be at the same rate as night calls. Dangerous contagious diseases, $2.00 to $5.00. Minimum office fee, 75c. Extra charge for surgical attention or surgical dressings.

Other fees can be earned by telephone calls or by the physician's

Failure to pass laws... every labor trouble that develops in the future will be charged directly to the government and will result in the lines between labor and capital being more closely drawn than heretofore. It is a step in the wrong direction. It is not the place of Congress to legislate on these matters other than to protect the life, limb and health of the laborer. There are other channels for the solution of wage and hour differences that would leave the government unfettered to conduct the business of the country.

CHANGED HIS MIND AGAIN.

"Tut! Tut!" said President Wilson to the Managers of the Brotherhood officers. "You must not strike. You must not tie up Commerce." "You must arbitrate." A little later he saw what he thought was a chance to make a hit with the labor element of voters and he called a panic stricken, obedient Congress together and forgetting all about arbitration he forced through a piece of legislation that barters the eight hour work day for a raise in wages.

OUTSIDE HELP NOT WANTED.

Clearfield talent is very capable of putting on their own shows and benefits without the assistance of any outsider who comes in and walks away with a very large percentage of the profits. We hope that the next home talent play will be all home talent. If it is we will boost all the harder and so will every other interest in the city. We will be assured of a good show without the ridiculous overacting of someone who believes he can palm off anything on the people of a town who know and appreciate good acting. The weakest part of the whole performance last Thursday and Friday nights was the acting of the imported mollycoddle.

WHAT DO THEY GAIN?

The Brotherhood officials believe they have gained a wonderful victory in the passage of the eight hour law. They have financially as the railroader will now receive the same pay for eight hours' work as he received for ten hours, but the law as jammed through by President Wilson does not give the railroaders what they wanted. The law of the railroaders was not for more money but for a shorter workday and the elimination of the practise of working them for periods that were beyond the limit of endurance. Under the law they will receive more money but they will continue to work the long hours and their pay for eight hours for labor, eight hours for recreation and eight for sleep has been traded by President Wilson for a measly raise in wages. The raise in wages will be appreciated to be sure but the railroad man will still continue to be a practical stranger to his family in busy times and a slave to the sixteen hour work day.

A NEW FUNCTION OF THE GOVERNMENT.

It remained for Mr. Wilson to establish the precedent of fixing hours of labor and prices for same for certain classes of labor. Mr. Wilson has established several precedents since he occupied the White House but none of them has been of any consequence up until last week. Since he saw fit to call a night session and compel Congress to pass eight hour legislation for a certain class of labor it is only natural that Congress will be expected to step in and legislate on every strike of any magnitude that occurs in this country in the future. The next time the bricklayers, the miners, the plasterers, the shopmen of the railroads, the clerks of the railroads or any other organization of men make a demand for more money or less hours it will be only right for them to expect the President to take the same interest in them that he did in the railroaders and immediately summon Congress and grant their demands by law. Failure to pass laws to settle every labor trouble that develops in the future will be charged directly to the government and will result in the lines between labor and capital being more closely drawn than heretofore. It is a step in the wrong direction. It is not the place of Congress to legislate on these

Today's Geographic Study of The Great European War Zone

Washington, D. C., Sept. 5.—A vivid picture of the Roumanian peasantry, whose country has been drawn into the destructive vortex of the European war after many months of vacillation, is presented in a communication to the National Geographic Society from James Howard Gore. The society today issued part of Mr. Gore's article as a war geography bulletin which says:
"A Roumanian village looks its best in the spring, when nature, awakened from the sleep of winter, is green and fresh. At Easter the cottages have been white-washed and the doors and window frames freshly painted in bright colors. The thatched roof has been put in order, and in its entirety the cottage calls to mind the black-eyed country girls, with their glistening strings of multi-colored beads around their necks.
"The Roumanian peasant women by the roadside are the fairest among their Balkan neighbors, and this natural gift is most apparent under conditions best calculated for its preservation. Their dress is varied and elaborate. The foundation is a sort of shift reaching to the ankle, the upper part embroidered with colored cotton, usually red or black. Over this is a petticoat, which, in its material and detail, reflects the taste and buying power of the wearer. On her head the peasant woman wears a scarf of cotton tissue with silk stripes if her means permit, and on gala occasions she puts on a bright kerchief, ornamented with a fringe or a row of spangles. Both men and women seem partial to having their heads covered, even in the house; but it is not regarded proper to eat without removing the hat.
"In no part of Europe do the peasants hold so tenaciously to their distinctive costume as in the uplands of Roumania. It is, in fact, almost a test of nationalism, and its unifying influence was emphasized some years ago by the late Dowager Queen, widely known as Carmen Sylva, when she herself put on the native dress.
"While wheat is the great staple of this agricultural country the soil is equally adapted to corn (maize) and would be called upon for greater crops if the demand should justify it. The ease with which corn can be converted into substantial food tempts the people to give but little attention to the form in which it is prepared for consumption. Polenta, a sort of mush, can be made of corn meal and water, and if time or energy be lacking, it will be placed on the table insufficiently cooked. Although many believe that this is the cause of the greater part of the pellagra so common in Roumania, it is difficult to persuade the peasant to exercise greater care in the preparation of polenta or substitute for it some of the many palatable dishes that can be made from corn.
"Cooking, unfortunately, is not cultivated as it should be, and the people seem content with simple fare and a sameness that yields but little to the seasons. Gardening is looked upon as pretty farming and not worthy of the attention of a man who calls himself a farmer; in fact, so few Roumanians have gardens that they are called 'bulgari,' since the greater part of the vegetables grown are in the hands of immigrant Bulgarians. The soil and climate of the country are adapted to as wide a range as can be found in our middle Atlantic states, however.
"The climate of Roumania is not so mild as might be expected from the low altitude of the land, it being the same as that of northern Italy. Coming under the influence of the Mediterranean on the west and the mountains to the north and east the kingdom is subject to the extremes of sub-tropical summer and a winter of the Hungarian plains. 'Roumania,' says Carmen Sylva, 'has only three seasons, and of these alone—autumn—is fine; in these parts there is no spring.'
"The Roumanian is not a trades-

man and his main interest lies in farming. Even the selling of surplus grain usually takes place at his farm to the itinerant buyers, for he seems to be wary of the town merchant, and rarely trusts himself to the wiles of the city, except on the occasion of the annual fair.

"The higher classes in Roumania—the descendants of the Boyars, the landed aristocracy and the rich citizens—use in general the French language in their daily intercourse, reserving the Roumanian tongue for those cases where it is prescribed by law—in the parliament and in the law courts. As this restriction does not affect the women, those of higher rank take but little interest in the native melodies. Roumanian and would not deign to sing the least important note in the language. The proximity of Austria, and the influence of the Hohenzollern rulers, have brought the German language to the Roumanians as a second competitor.

"The propaganda in behalf of the use and development of the native language is making headway, however, as evidenced by the forcible interruption by Roumanian students of a play given in French by a ladies' charitable organization in Bucharest, which kept the city in a state of rioting which kept the city in a state of siege for four days.

"One of the greatest economic weaknesses of Roumania arises from the fact that the rural population, which works so arduously during the summer, has practically nothing to do in winter. During the idle months they spend for daily necessities all they earned when work was plentiful."

It is upon unqualified, detailed endorsements like the following that the monster demand for Tanlac, the Master Medicine, has been built up. This convincing Tanlac story was told by C. J. Swires, of 1819 Eighth Ave., Altoona, a signal fitter.

"I have been a great sufferer from catarrh in an advanced stage," Mr. Swires began. "I have used everything I ever heard of, I believe," he continued, "but nothing I used helped me one particle. There were mucus discharges from my nose that affected my throat, violent coughing, offensive breath, impaired appetite, dizzy spells, and, altogether, I was in a nervous, run-down condition, and contracted colds.
"I heard of the wonderful work of this new medicine Tanlac, and I immediately got me some of the medicine. I am certainly glad that I purchased the medicine and began taking it when I did, as it has done me a world of good. I have taken two bottles of Tanlac and am now on my third. This statement of mine is therefore not hasty, but is based on ample proof. All the symptoms from which I have suffered have disappeared and I believe Tanlac has cured me. I am, however, going to keep on taking the medicine as I believe I will get better than I ever was in my life."
Tanlac is now sold in Clearfield exclusively by Woodward & McPherson, where the premier preparation can be had.

DO YOU KNOW THAT—

Air brakes were first used on American passenger trains in 1868. The total number of railroad employees in the United States is about 1,740,000.

More than 550,000 passenger cars are in use on railroads in the United States.

More than 2,500,000 cars of all classes are used by the railroads of this country.

The first vestibuled train was put into service on the Pennsylvania in 1866.

The first Pullman sleeping car was put into operation on the Chicago and Alton road in 1865.

The aggregate mileage of railway tracks of all kinds in the United States is nearly 380,000 miles.

The first railway to reach the Missouri River was the Hannibal and St. Joseph road, completed in 1859.

The swivelling truck for locomotives was first put into practical use on the Mohawk and Hudson railroad in 1831.

One of the first railroads in America was a gravity road constructed at March Run, Pa., for the transportation of coal.

One of the first American locomotives was built by the West Point, (N. Y.) Foundry for the South Carolina railroad, which was opened in 1830.

Three years after the Chicago and Alton road established its sleeping car service the first dining car was put into service on the same road.

The latest available figures show the total operating expenses of railroads in the United States to be in excess of $2,250,000,000 a year.

The first great trunk line system in America was the Cleveland and Toledo railroad, which established a continuous line of 1,000 miles between Boston and Chicago in 1853.

The first locomotive used in the United States was "The Stourbridge Lion," brought over from England and put into service on the Honesdale and Carlisle railroad in Pennsylvania in 1829.

The South Carolina railroad, which began operation between Charleston and Augusta in 1825, had a continuous line of 145 miles, which at that time was the longest line of railroad in the world.

The first passenger cars used on American railroads were of the English type. The modern American type of car with the aisle running through the center was first put into general use on the Baltimore and Ohio railroad in the early '50s.

The first railroad in America built expressly for carrying freight and passengers was the Baltimore and Ohio, which was regularly opened in 1827, after having been operated for a time as a horse-railroad. At the time of the opening the road had a total length of 14 miles.

The question habit grows. You may ask a question of any one. Why should the dear old public escape? Here are a few from The New York Sun for the man in the street:

Do you approve of the Rivers and Harbors loot?

Do you want four years more of watchful waiting with the National Guardsmen undergoing military training in a tropical climate in mid-summer?

Do you hold that the duty of the United States is to serve humanity and let its own citizens be killed and outraged?

Do you feel proud of notes with nothing behind them?

What do you think of the Vera Cruz adventure?

Would you like to have been an American soldier at Carrizal?

Do you love Carranza?

Do you believe in a financial regime conducted largely in the interest of one section of the country?

Do you desire to cut the Philippines loose in order that Japan may gobble them?

Do you want four more years of Daniels?

Do you approve of wrecking the diplomatic service to provide jobs for deserving Democrats?

Are you in favor of inflation?

Do you believe in preparedness for a flood of cheap European wares as soon as peace comes?

Have you noticed the significant increase of imports in the past year, despite the war?

How did fool free trade hit your line of business before August, 1914?

And your friends?

Were you all cheered up by the Underwood tariff bill?

Do you think the doubling of the income tax is fair while millions' worth of competitive imports come in free?

Where are you going to be when the war babies die and business slips back to the cold, hard, normal basis?

Can you conceive of any possible good to you or to the country from another Presidential term like the present one?

Will you perpetuate sectionalism, greed, ignorance, stupidity—general ineptitude in Congress?

ATTRACTS BUSINESS MEN.

Mr. Hughes has not tried to scare anybody, but has merely portrayed the errors of the present Administration and set forth certain principles on which the affairs of the country should be managed in the future.

There is a political logic in this portrayal, the culmination of which in the mind of the voter is expressed by the frequent remark:

"He is the kind of man we want to steer us through."

This has been said by many a business man. The qualities seen in Mr. Hughes are poise, a strong, sane mind, sincerity and a willingness to sacrifice life, physical or political, to the good of the country. Nor is there any question as to the quality of nerve to meet the emergencies of the four years beginning March 4, 1917.

Pity the Man Who Doesn't Advertise!

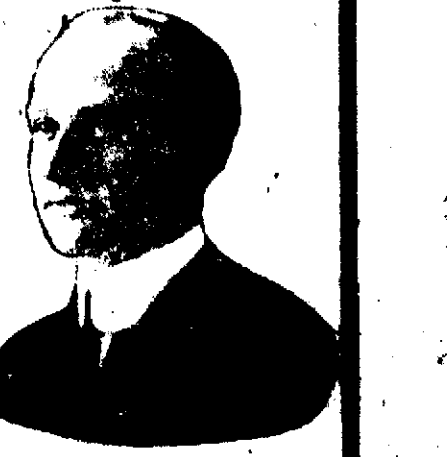

By ERENN.

"I have an established business. I don't require advertising."

That is the answer of some self-satisfied man to a request for advertising. Meanwhile his progressive neighbor is using printer's ink lavishly.

The result is obvious. It's only a question of time. The self-satisfied business man soon finds his track disappearing. His progressive neighbor goes ahead with leaps and bounds. Every business, no matter how firmly established, needs advertising. If it isn't advertised it soon will be in a rut.

LOCAL COLLEGE OF MUSIC

The Susquehanna College of Music will open its 11th year on Monday, September 4th, 1916 to private pupils only on account of the recent decision of the Board of Health. There will be no ensemble practice until later. The fine new building, 308 Locust street, has been thoroughly renovated and is in fine condition.

The personnel of the faculty is the same as last year: H. Clark Taylor, vocal and piano; George M. North, piano, organ and light reading; Margaret M. Patterson, violin; Miss Maud Fletcher, cello and piano.

These persons are all specialists in their respective lines and employ the most thoroughly scientific system of instruction, and the best of the modern method of teaching.

The enrollment books are now open and pupils should register as early as possible in order to insure desirable positions.

PITTSBURGH TO CELEBRATE CENTENNIAL

Exercises to Commemorate 100 Years a City, Oct. 1-7

PAGEANTS TO SHOW HISTORY

Great Parade on October 6 is Expected to Be Greatest Demonstration in City's History—Pageants at Forbes Field Will Be Presented by 1,500 Performers and Chorus of 1,000 Voices.

Pittsburgh will, during the entire week October 1st-7th, have a great celebration of the Centennial of its incorporation as a city. The celebration will be under the auspices of The Historical Society of Western Pennsylvania but the city and county authorities, business organizations and citizens generally are taking an active part in the arrangements.

It was in 1816 that Pittsburgh ceased to be a borough and became a city and the celebration is intended to commemorate the achievements of the community within the past hundred years, portray its present condition and forecast its future. Mayor Joseph C. Armstrong is honorary chairman of the general committee and William H. Stevenson, president of The Historical Society of Western Pennsylvania is active chairman, with Ward S. Patterson as secretary. The committee has headquarters at 602 Keenan Building, Pittsburgh.

The program for the event is as follows:

Sunday, Oct. 1st—Religious Day: Special congregational, union and neighborhood services.

Monday, Oct. 2nd—Educational Day: Presentation of school local history prizes.

Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, Oct. 3rd, 4th, 5th—Pageant Days: Historical pageant in the evenings at Forbes Field by 1,500 performers and chorus of 1,000.

Friday, Oct. 6th—Civic, Greater Pittsburgh, G. A. R., Preparedness, Patriotic and Waterways Day: Great civic and military parade. Presentation of medals to pupils for essays on Lincoln by Sons of Veterans.

Saturday, Oct. 7th—Athletic Day: Football game at Forbes Field, Pitt vs. Westminster, and other sports.

All Week—Special Pittsburgh exhibits and music at Western Pennsylvania Exposition Society. Window exhibits of Pittsburgh-made goods by merchants. Exhibit of Pittsburgh historical pictures at Carnegie Art Galleries. Exhibit of Pittsburgh historical relics at Carnegie Museum. Exhibit of Pittsburgh books and musical compositions at Allegheny Carnegie Library.

Distinguished present and former residents of Pittsburgh will speak during the celebration. The members of the Pennsylvania State Editorial association will visit Pittsburgh during the week.

The great parade on Friday, Oct. 6th, promises to be the greatest in the history of the city, exceeding the notable one of the Sesqui-Centennial celebration of 1908.

Robert Garland, president of the Chamber of Commerce, is president of the parade committee and Colonel J. M. Schoonmaker, vice president of the Pittsburgh and Lake Erie railroad and a distinguished veteran of the Civil war, is to be chief marshal.

The magnificent historical pageant to be given at Forbes Field on the evenings of Oct. 3rd, 4th and 5th will be a most unique and interesting affair. One thousand five hundred persons will participate in the pageant which will represent scenes in the history of Pittsburgh. There will also be a musical chorus of 1,000 persons. The pageant will be under the direction of Professor George M. P. Baird of the University of Pittsburgh, who has also written the scenario.

NOTICE.

The Spring Valley picnic will be held on the picnic grounds, Saturday, September 9th. Bring your basket and come enjoy the day. A festival will be held in the evening.

By Order of Committee.

NOTICE TO BIDDERS

The Board of Directors of the School District of Clearfield Borough hereby gives notice that it will receive sealed bids up to 7 o'clock p. m. of the 4th day of September, 1916, for furnishing coal for the school year 1916-1917 at the following school houses: Reedsville, Lehigh Grade, Central Grammar, New High School, Third Ward and Fourth Ward.

Bids will be received for the supply of any one building, or the supply at all the buildings. The right is reserved to reject any or all bids.

SAYS WE BECOME CRANKS ON HOT WATER DRINKING

Hopes Every Man and Woman Adopt This Splendid Morning Habit.

Why is a man and woman, half the time, feeling nervous, despondent, worried; some days headachy, dull and unstrung; some day really incapacitated by illness.

If we would all practice inside-bathing, what a gratifying change would take place. Instead of thousands of half-sick, anemic-looking souls with pasty, muddy complexions we should see crowds of happy, healthy, rosy-cheeked people everywhere. The reason is that the human system does not rid itself each day of all the waste which it accumulates under our present mode of living. For every ounce of food and drink taken into the system nearly an ounce of waste material must be carried out else it ferments and forms poisonous like poisons which are absorbed into the blood.

Just as necessary as it is to clean the ashes from the furnace each day, so the fire will burn brightly and so we must each morning clean inside organs of the previous day's accumulation of indigestible waste and body toxins. Men and women, whether sick or well, are advised to drink each morning, before breakfast, a glass of hot red water with a teaspoonful of lime-salt phosphate in it, as a harmless means of washing out the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels the indigestible material, waste, sour bile and toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.

Millions of people who had their turn at constipation, bilious attacks, indigestion, nervous days and sleepless nights, have become real cranks about the morning inside-bath. A quarter of a pound of limestone phosphate will not cost much at the drug store, but it is sufficient to demonstrate to everyone, its cleansing, sweetening and refreshing effect upon the system.

BRITISH SCIENTISTS MEET.

London, Ore., Sept. 5.—The British Association for the Advancement of Science began its annual meeting today at Newcastle. More than 2,000 scientists are attending the sessions.

AL. H. WILSON.

Al H. Wilson, the singing dialect comedian and a capable company will present the new Irish son play "My Killarney Rose" at the Opera House on Thursday.

This latest offering of Mr. Wilson was written by Mr. Herbert Winslow who has an enviable reputation as a writer of successful plays. The atmosphere of "My Killarney Rose" is purely Irish in character and is enhanced by appropriate stage settings and a number of electrical effects new to stage craft.

Around the plot of the play which is said to be ingenious, the author has supplied an interesting story through which is drawn well defined threads of pathos and comedy. This new departure from the former offerings of this favorite comedian bids fair to outrival in success anything he has heretofore produced, since it offers a new field for his versatility.

A number of new songs will be introduced during the action, the titles being, "My Killarney Rose," "The Love I Give to You," "Where the Shamrock Grows," "Mary Houlihan," and "The Yodel that Stole My Girl Away."

The prices will be 25, 50, 75c and $1.00. Seats on sale tomorrow.

RECIPE TO CLEAR A PIMPLY SKIN

Pimples Are Impurities Seeking an Outlet Through Skin Pores.

Pimples, sores and boils usually result from toxins, poisons and impurities which are generated in the bowels and absorbed into the blood through the very ducts which should absorb only nourishment to sustain the body. It is the function of the kidneys to filter impurities from the blood and cast them out in the form of urine, but in many instances the bowels create more toxins and impurities than the kidneys can eliminate, then the blood uses the skin pores as the next best means of getting rid of these impurities which often break out over the skin in the form of pimples.

The surest way to clear the skin of these eruptions, says a noted authority is to get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts and take a tablespoonful in a glass of hot water each morning before breakfast for one week. This will prevent the formation of toxins in the bowels. It also stimulates the kidneys to normal activity, thus coaxing them to filter the blood of impurities and clearing the skin of pimples.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia. Here you have a pleasant effervescent drink which usually makes pimples disappear; cleanses the blood and is excellent for the kidneys as well.

MOSQUITO FLEET'S PROWESS BEING TESTED AT NEW YORK

New York, Sept. 5.—Uncle Sam's submarine hunters are going into action today. The navy's protectors against underwater craft, consisting mainly of motor boats of great speed, manned by volunteer seamen who own the boats, will have their first real test since their organization, when they are put through their paces under the eyes of government officers.

Maneuvers, which will end Sept. 12, will be held in Boston, Newport, New York and the Delaware capes. The senior naval officer present at each point will be in charge.

Probably the most interesting feature of the cruise will come on the third day, and will consist of maneuvers in mine sweeping, communications defense of battleships and protection of harbors from attacks by submarines.

Groups will leave their respective bases early in the morning and will proceed in the district to which they have been assigned to search for mines. When a mine is located it will be removed and the search will proceed until all have been located and loaded onto the boats.

On the fourth day the patrol boats will assemble with the battleships which have been assigned to take part in the maneuvers, and will form a screen to protect the big vessels from attacks by submarines.

This part of the United States fleet is being recognized as one of the most important since the advent of the submarine as a formidable weapon of offense in the European war. Recently trials were held with the United States patrol boats and they succeeded in theoretically destroying a United States submarine after it had submerged in plain view of them.

ROADS CONGRESS.

Lexington, Ky., Sept. 5.—Several hundred delegates, representing Florida, North Carolina, South Carolina, West Virginia, Alabama, Georgia, Virginia, Kentucky and Tennessee, were on hand today at the opening of the annual convention of the Southern Appalachian Good Roads association. Governor Rye of Tennessee, Governor Stanley of Kentucky and the road commissioners of a number of states are on the program for addresses during the three days' sessions.

The dwelling houses occupied by S. J. Richard and Harry Hoover, on George street, have been repainted, which adds considerably to their appearance.

Raymond Young has rented the room lately vacated by H. Ducas, in the Sweeney block, and will open a barber shop and pool room within the next two weeks.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. Kramer, at their home in Maryville, Tenn., last Saturday, a daughter. The mother is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Arnold, of this place.

In December, 1913, the Curwensville postoffice had on record a postal savings fund of $1500. With the ending of the month of August, 1916, the record showed a fund of $12,415.

Miss Suplee, who has been in guest in the Kirk home for the past three weeks, left for her home in Philadelphia Sunday, being accompanied by Fred Kirk, who had come up from the city for a week end visit with his mother, Mrs. A. M. Kirk.

Joseph Serf had a warrant issued Saturday evening for the arrest of one Joseph Lupola, charging him with assault and battery. At the hearing the justice could not see wherein the man had been assaulted, hence he discharged the prisoner and affixed the costs to the plaintiff's account.

The High School boys are getting into shape for the football season. So enthusiastic have they become that a partial organization has been made with Orvil King as captain and Saul Robinson as manager. The squad expects to get in shape to commence a regular practice sometime during the week.

Orvis R. Gulich and Miss Nora P. Carlson of Clearfield, were married by Rev. I. P. Hawkins, of this place, last Saturday forenoon at 11 o'clock, at the home of the officiating minister. The happy couple left immediately for a tour in the eastern cities. They will make their home in Clearfield.

D. C. Henchbarger went to Glen Hope where he has been engaged to put in some new abutments and repair others under the old covered wooden bridge at that point. This is one of the oldest passageways in the county, having been built over seventy years ago, and the timbers are as sound today as when the structure was erected.

By observing the following figures it will be noticed that the financial condition of Curwensville borough is in a healthy and prosperous state. With the ending of August the cash on hand from the different departments is as follows: Light, $1322.32; Loan, $591.98; Paving, $1157.51; Road, $2021.42; Water, $697.62, footing up to a grand total of $5,791.87.

That Curwensville is still on the map and retains its reputation for entertaining visitors in royal style, is indicated by the large number of names on the hotel registers for the month of August. At the Park Hotel the registration numbered 585, while the New Central hotel footed up nearly 500 names. Not so bad a showing, and this does not include the guests who stopped at the different boarding

Labor Day was not generally observed in Curwensville, only by the suspension of work by most of the industries. A great many of the town's population sought other towns to enjoy themselves, while others took baskets of provisions and went to the "Pee-Wee's" nest park or to the woods and spent the day. Nearly all the stores closed their doors at noon and took a half holiday. Generally speaking, the town took on an appearance of a Sunday rather than a legal holiday. There were no disturbances of any kind during the day or evening.

LABOR.

Little Talks on Health and Hygiene by Samuel C. Dixon, M. D.

Man was intended to labor by the all wise Creator. Our mental and physical makeup is such that occupation is essential to continued well-being.

From the hunter, the fisherman and the rude agriculturist man has evolved a complicated civilization. There are thousands of occupations today in place of the few primitive ones but still the majority of these center about the fulfilling of the primary necessities, feeding and clothing mankind. It has become impossible for the laborer to work under the conditions which originally obtained. Besides the fields and forest we have mine, mill and mart.

Man has progressed mentally to a remarkable degree but we cannot say that of his physical development. However, his requirements are much the same as those of our remote ancestors. Sunlight, fresh air, pure water and physical exercise are absolutely essential to the maintenance of health.

If the conditions under which men and women labor do not make this possible they are detrimental to the individual and to society at large, for upon the health of its people depends the ultimate future of any nation. No machinery can entirely replace the sinews of labor.

To be healthy and happy we must love his work.

Railroad Embargo or Strike Will Not Stop Atlantic Gasoline Deliveries

Freight Embargo Order.

After a long conference in the morning between transportation and traffic officials the following announcement was made by the Pennsylvania Railroad:

In view of the pending nation-wide strike of the engineers, conductors, firemen and trainmen in the freight and yard services, the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, Baltimore and Washington Railroad Company and the West Jersey & Seashore Railroad Company have been compelled to issue the following embargo notices on freight, to apply to shipments from all points for all destinations:

Item 1. Effective at close of business Thursday, August 31, 1916, embargo all shipments of explosives and inflammables of every kind and description.

Item 2. Effective at close of business, Thursday, August 31, 1916, embargo all shipments of perishable freight, including live stock, dressed beef, live and dressed poultry and fresh fruits and vegetables.

Item 3. Effective at close of business Saturday, September 2, 1916, embargo all freight of all kinds from all points for all destinations.

We are prepared to meet conditions arising under the railroad embargo, which refuses all shipments of gasoline, effective September 1st, and during the threatened railroad strike.

There will be no interruption in deliveries of Atlantic Gasoline.

Our vast fleet of motor trucks will run night and day between our three refineries and Atlantic Service Stations, everywhere in Pennsylvania and Delaware.

This ability to supply the public with gasoline in a national crisis is made possible by our refineries at Philadelphia, Franklin and Pittsburgh, which have the most modern equipment in Pennsylvania; by pipe-lines which traverse the state; and by unrivaled delivery facilities—a part of the Atlantic Service.

WORKING BEE TO CLEAN UP PARK THURSDAY

Everyone Invited To Help In This Worthy Civic Proposition

LOTS OF FUN AND AMUSEMENT

The bee will buzz at the Clearfield Driving Park next Thursday. A working bee will be held on that day to give the public in general an opportunity in helping to clean-up and repair the park in preparation for the County Fair which will be held from the twelfth to the fifteenth of September.

The park has recently been taken over by the Clearfield Park association, which organization will convert the grounds into a recreation place and erect new ones, and to clean up the grove to present an attractive appearance before the fair days.

Everyone is cordially invited to come when he pleases and to leave when he is tired. This is a civic proposition and everyone should help in converting the park into an attractive spot. No difference whether you are a business man, a professional man or a country official or a working man you are urged to come over to the park and bring a hoe, a shovel, a hammer or a saw and help in this work.

A large force of men have been busy for the past few weeks cleaning up and repairing, but there is much work to be done yet so that the committee in charge of this work have decided that a bee be held. Several of the prominent business men of town have already expressed their intention of being present and it is hoped all the rest will do likewise.

It won't all be work as there will be a lot of fun, sport and amusement for you come out. If you can't work come and help in making its pleasant for those who can. Remember the day, Thursday, all day.

After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Gulich, Ellen Anderson and Jennie Carlson motored to DuBois where Mr. and Mrs. Gulich took the train for Buffalo, Niagara Falls and to Toronto Fair in Canada. They expect to be gone a week after which they will make their home in Clearfield where the groom holds a responsible position with the Harbison Walker Ref. Co.

COUNTRY CLUB ATTRACTS MANY ON LABOR DAY

Clearfield Defeats Houltzdale At Driving Park Before Extra Large Crowd

MANY PICNICS ARE HELD

There was no public observance of Labor Day in Clearfield yesterday although the stores and manufacturing plants of the town were closed down and employees enjoyed an ideal day of rest. Many private picnics and a base ball game at the Driving Park furnished amusement for many people. A great number of Clearfielders went out of town for the day, many going to DuBois and Philipsburg where big celebrations were held.

Yesterday was probably the biggest day of the season at the Clearfield-Curwensville Country Club where about two hundred of the more prominent residents of the two towns spent the day. An extra attractive program had been prepared by the entertainment committee for the occasion.

One of the chief features of the program was the mixed foursome match play in which sixteen men and ladies participated. Mr. Russell and Miss Dyer of Curwensville made the lowest scores. The following couples entered:

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Reed
Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Shillingford.
Mr. and Mrs. William Bigler,
Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Moore,
Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Douglass,
Miss Dyer and Mr. Russell,
Miss White and H. F. Bigler, Jr.
Miss Powell and Samuel Powell

On Saturday the finals of the second group of the men's golf tournament were played off. Cortez Bell won the tournament by defeating H. B. Hartwick by a small margin.

The Curwensville Citizens band gave a concert at the club house in the afternoon which was much enjoyed by all who heard it. Cards and golf furnished the entertainment of the afternoon and dancing in the evening.

McKinley's orchestra of Curwensville furnished the music for the dancing.

PAY TRIBUTE TO MEMORY OF WILDERNESS PREACHER

Pleasant Hill, Pleasant Plains, Ill. Sept. 5.—Hundreds of persons in this section of Illinois today made a pilgrimage to the grave of Peter Cartwright, the preacher of the wilderness who, in pre-Civil War days taught religious duties to the people of the central part of Illinois.

Hundreds of persons attending the 93rd Methodist conference at Springfield came here to pay their respect to the memory of the pioneer preacher.

The preacher was a candidate for Congress against Abraham Lincoln in 1864. He is looked upon as having been one of the greatest churchmen of the Methodist faith.

Among those here today were members of the Illinois Historical Society including Senator Lawrence Y. Sherman, State Treasurer Russell, President James of Illinois University and former Governor Yates.

BRITISH CANNOT MELT GOLD COIN FOR WORKERS.

London, Sept. 5.—England's famous Defense of the Realm act, that elastic piece of legislation framed by Parliament at the beginning of the war, has again been stretched. This latest stretch prohibits the melting down of gold coins.

This measure becomes necessary, it was learned today, because of the enormous wastage of the nation's gold reserves caused by the reduction of gold coins for the manufacture of jewelry for which the exceptionally high wages of the war workers have created an extensive demand.

ROADSTER GOES OVER BANK AT CENTER CHURCH

Four Young Clearfield Girls Have Narrow Escapes When Car Is Knocked Off Road

PROTHONOTARY HAS ACCIDENT

Four popular Clearfield girls had a narrow escape from serious injury Sunday afternoon when a Ford runabout in which they were riding went over an embankment near the Centerville church and turned turtle. The car was badly smashed but the girls all escaped with only slight bruises and cuts.

The accident occurred about 3:20 o'clock when Misses Mary and Margaret Waterworth, Helene Lytle and Ruth Dempsey were returning from a ride to Curwensville. When near the Center church an automobile containing Mrs. Angelina Lucas, Edward Lucas, Misses Edna and Wilda Lucas of Punxsutawney drove up behind them and attempted to pass and at the same moment a big touring car going in the opposite direction drove into view at terrific speed. Miss Lucas, who was driving the Punxsy car saw she could not get past in time so she swung her car around trying to fall back behind the Waterworth car.

Miss Lucas became confused and drove into the car containing the four girls which was over to the extreme right of the road, and knocked it off the road over an embankment about three feet in height. The back fender of the Waterworth car struck a tree which caused it to turn turtle, stopping on its side. The car was badly damaged, the windshield being smashed, the radius rod bent and other part injured.

Fortunately none of the girls were seriously injured. Miss Lucas, who was driving the other car, received a severe shock. The car going in the direction of Curwensville did not stop and the number of the car was invisible on account of the dust.

Prothonotary Has Accident.

While driving toward Clearfield about four o'clock Sunday afternoon John H. Moore's car was crowded off the street into a ditch beside the road near Lumber City and badly smashed. None of the occupants were hurt except Mrs. Moore who was thrown out against a rock and received bruises on her thigh.

The accident occurred on a sharp turn on this side of Lumber City. Mr. Moore was rounding the curve at an exceptionally low rate of speed when a big touring car came around in the opposite direction on the left hand side of the road, going about forty miles an hour. Mr. Moore, realizing the danger drove into the ditch at the side of the road, his car scraping a rock, damaging the running board. The man going in the opposite direction was clear over Mr. Moore's side and had it not been for Mr. Moore driving into the ditch, the other car would have gone over a fifty foot embankment.

Accident at Hogback.

Mr. and Mrs. Scott W. Norris and family narrowly escaped serious injury on the notorious Hogback Hill Sunday evening. They were returning to Clearfield from a visit to upriver relatives when the steering gear broke on their car while descending the hill. The car was ditched and the occupants thrown out, but fortunately all escaped serious injury, although badly shaken up and bruised.

Two Hurt by Motorcycle.

A motorcycle skidded down from under Fred Dale and Charles Barger employees at Ellenberger's grocery store, while howling along the state road near Osceola at a 40 mile gait Monday afternoon. Both riders were badly used up, Mr. Barger being unconscious for a couple of hours, but luckily escaped with severe cuts and bruises. Mr. Barger was the more seriously injured and was taken to

PLEA OF BANK ROBBER WILL BE INSANITY

Tells Progress Representative What Transpired at Curwensville Seems a Dream

WILL ASK COURT FOR MEXICO

When court opened this morning, D. O. Downing was called before the bar to answer to the indictments returned against him yesterday. He was accompanied by his counsel, W. B. Harwick, Esq., and pleaded guilty to every count in both indictments.

Mr. Downing in conversation with a representative of the Progress, stated that the whole transaction appeared as a dream to him; that he had no recollection of any of the happenings immediately preceding the attempted bank robbery; that he had been in bad health for some time and had been at work repairing a broken-down automobile for two days immediately preceding the crime. He said he had not had any sleep the night before had quit work suffering from severe pains in his head and when he left Tyroce on Sunday he arrived in Curwensville. He said he had never been in Curwensville bank previous to his attempted robbery and only avowed to be connected with his crime and confessed after he had time to rest and collect his thoughts in the quiet of his cell at the county jail.

He expressed great remorse for his crime and will throw himself on the mercy of the court.

He is the father of six children, 5 of whom are under twenty years of age, and as his wife is in delicate health he feels that the unfortunate and helpless condition of his family ought to have some weight in his behalf when his crime and his punishment are balanced in the scales of justice.

GRIDIRON PRACTICE STARTED.

New Haven, Conn., Sept. 4.—As a forerunner of the Yale football season of 1916 the candidates for the team donned their uniform today and appeared on the field for the beginning of preliminary practice. More than 100 candidates reported, forming the largest squad in the history of the game at Old Eli. During the next few weeks the candidates will be put through their paces and the team sifted out under the watchful eyes of the new coaching staff, which includes Tad Jones, Dr. William T. Bull, Dr. Arthur Bridges, Michael F. Sweeney, Jack Cates, Nate Whaler, and William Marting.

DOCTORS' FEES RAISED.

The doctors of Clearfield have found it necessary to moderately increase their fees. The necessity of an advance has been apparent ever since the jump in the prices of drugs and everything else that is used in medical and surgical practice.

An advance in fees is in effect in most of the communities all over the state and has been for months. Among the fees that will take effect on Wednesday, September 6th are the following: Minimum day call, $1.00 and 50 cents additional for each additional patient in the house. Night call, $2.00, and in order to give the physician a chance for needed rest and restoration night calls will mean all calls in which the patient asks that the call be made between the hours of 8 p. m. and 7 a. m.

All calls that reach the doctor's office before 6 p. m. will be made on day fees regardless of the hour of the actual visit. Calls asked to be made during office hours will be at the same rate as night calls. Dangerous contagious diseases, $2.00 to $5.00. Minimum office fee, 75c. Extra charge for surgical attention or surgical dressings.

Other fees can be earned by telephone calls or by the physician's fee.

Failure to pass laws... every labor trouble that develops in the future will be charged directly to the government and will result in the lines between labor and capital being more closely drawn than heretofore. It is a step in the wrong direction. It is not the place of Congress to legislate on these matters other than to protect the life, limb and health of the laborer. There are other channels for the solution of wage and hour differences that would leave the government unfettered to conduct the business of the country.

CHANGED HIS MIND AGAIN.

"Tut! Tut!" said President Wilson to the Managers of the Brotherhood officers. "You must not strike. You must not tie up Commerce." "You must arbitrate." A little later he saw what he thought was a chance to make a hit with the labor element of voters and he called a panic stricken, obedient Congress together and forgetting all about arbitration he forced through a piece of legislation that barters the eight hour work day for a raise in wages.

OUTSIDE HELP NOT WANTED.

Clearfield talent is very capable of putting on their own shows and benefits without the assistance of any outsider who comes in and walks away with a very large percentage of the profits. We hope that the next home talent play will be all home talent. If it is we will boost all the harder and so will every other interest in the city. We will be assured of a good show without the ridiculous overrating of someone who believes he can palm off anything on the people of a town who know and appreciate good acting. The weakest part of the whole performance last Thursday and Friday nights was the acting of the imported mollycoddle.

WHAT DO THEY GAIN?

The Brotherhood officials believe they have gained a wonderful victory in the passage of the eight hour law. They have financially as the railroader will now receive the same pay for eight hours' work as he received for ten hours, but the law as jammed through by President Wilson does not give the railroaders what they wanted. The law of the railroaders was not for more money but for a shorter workday and the elimination of the practise of working them for periods that were beyond the limit of endurance. Under the law they will receive more money but they will continue to work the long hours and their pay for eight hours for labor, eight hours for recreation and eight for sleep has been traded by President Wilson for a measly raise in wages. The raise in wages will be appreciated to be sure but the railroad man will still continue to be a practical stranger to his family in busy times and a slave to the sixteen hour work day.

A NEW FUNCTION OF THE GOVERNMENT.

It remained for Mr. Wilson to establish the precedent of fixing hours of labor and prices for same for certain classes of labor. Mr. Wilson has established several precedents since he occupied the White House but none of them has been of any consequence up until last week. Since he saw fit to call a night session and compel Congress to pass eight hour legislation for a certain class of labor it is only natural that Congress will be expected to step in and legislate on every strike of any magnitude that occurs in this country in the future. The next time the bricklayers, the miners, the plasterers, the shopmen of the railroads, the clerks of the railroads or any other organization of men make a demand for more money or less hours it will be only right for them to expect the President to take the same interest in them that he did in the railroaders and immediately summon Congress and grant their demands by law. Failure to pass laws to settle every labor trouble that develops in the future will be charged directly to the government and will result in the lines between labor and capital being more closely drawn than heretofore. It is a step in the wrong direction. It is not the place of Congress to legislate on these

Today's Geographic Study of The Great European War Zone

Washington, D. C., Sept. 5.—A vivid picture of the Roumanian peasantry, whose country has been drawn into the destructive vortex of the European war after many months of vacillation, is presented in a communication to the National Geographic Society from James Howard Gore. The society today issued part of Mr. Gore's article as a war geography bulletin which says:
"A Roumanian village looks its best in the spring, when nature, awakened from the sleep of winter, is green and fresh. At Easter the cottages have been white-washed and the doors and window frames freshly painted in bright colors. The thatched roof has been put in order, and in its entirety the cottage calls to mind the black-eyed country girls, with their glistening strings of multi-colored beads around their necks.
"The Roumanian peasant women by the roadside are the fairest among their Balkan neighbors, and this natural gift is most apparent under conditions best calculated for its preservation. Their dress is varied and elaborate. The foundation is a sort of shift reaching to the ankle, the upper part embroidered with colored cotton, usually red or black. Over this is a petticoat, which, in its material and detail, reflects the taste and buying power of the wearer. On her head the peasant woman wears a scarf of cotton tissue with silk stripes if her means permit, and on gala occasions she puts on a bright kerchief, ornamented with a fringe or a row of spangles. Both men and women seem partial to having their heads covered, even in the house; but it is not regarded proper to eat without removing the hat.
"In no part of Europe do the peasants hold so tenaciously to their distinctive costume as in the uplands of Roumania. It is, in fact, almost a test of nationalism, and its unifying influence was emphasized some years ago by the late Dowager Queen, widely known as Carmen Sylva, when she herself put on the native dress.
"While wheat is the great staple of this agricultural country the soil is equally adapted to corn (maize) and would be called upon for greater crops if the demand should justify it. The ease with which corn can be converted into substantial food tempts the people to give but little attention to the form in which it is prepared for consumption. Polenta, a sort of mush, can be made of corn meal and water, and if time or energy be lacking, it will be placed on the table insufficiently cooked. Although many believe that this is the cause of the greater part of the pellagra so common in Roumania, it is difficult to persuade the peasant to exercise greater care in the preparation of polenta or substitute for it some of the many palatable dishes that can be made from corn.
"Cooking, unfortunately, is not cultivated as it should be, and the people seem content with simple fare and a sameness that yields but little to the seasons. Gardening is looked upon as pretty farming and not worthy of the attention of a man who calls himself a farmer; in fact, so few Roumanians have gardens that they are called 'bulgaril,' since the greater part of the vegetables grown are in the hands of immigrant Bulgarians. The soil and climate of the country are adapted to as wide a range as can be found in our middle Atlantic states, however.
"The climate of Roumania is not so mild as might be expected from the low altitude of the land, it being the same as that of northern Italy. Coming under the influence of the Mediterranean on the west and the mountains to the north and east the kingdom is subject to the extremes of sub-tropical summer and a winter of the Hungarian plains. 'Roumania,' says Carmen Sylva, 'has only three seasons, and of these alone—autumn—is fine; in these parts there is no spring.'
"The Roumanian is not a trades-

man and his main interest lies in farming. Even the selling of surplus grain usually takes place at his farm to the itinerant buyers, for he seems to be wary of the town merchant, and rarely trusts himself to the wiles of the city, except on the occasion of the annual fair.

"The higher classes in Roumania—the descendants of the Boyars, the landed aristocracy and the rich citizens—use in general the French language in their daily intercourse, reserving the Roumanian tongue for those cases where it is prescribed by law—in the parliament and in the law courts. As this restriction does not affect the women, those of higher rank take but little interest in the native melodies. Roumanian and would not deign to sing the least important note in the language. The proximity of Austria, and the influence of the Hohenzollern rulers, have brought the German language to the Roumanians as a second competitor.

"The propaganda in behalf of the use and development of the native language is making headway, however, as evidenced by the forcible interruption by Roumanian students of a play given in French by a ladies' charitable organization in Bucharest, which kept the city in a state of rioting which kept the city in a state of siege for four days.

"One of the greatest economic weaknesses of Roumania arises from the fact that the rural population, which works so arduously during the summer, has practically nothing to do in winter. During the idle months they spend for daily necessities all they earned when work was plentiful."

It is upon unqualified, detailed endorsements like the following that the monster demand for Tanlac, the Master Medicine, has been built up. This convincing Tanlac story was told by C. J. Swires, of 1819 Eighth Ave., Altoona, a signal fitter.

"I have been a great sufferer from catarrh in an advanced stage," Mr. Swires began. "I have used everything I ever heard of, I believe," he continued, "but nothing I used helped me one particle. There were mucus discharges from my nose that affected my throat, violent coughing, offensive breath, impaired appetite, dizzy spells, and, altogether, I was in a nervous, run-down condition, and contracted colds.

"I heard of the wonderful work of this new medicine Tanlac, and I immediately got me some of the medicine. I am certainly glad that I purchased the medicine and began taking it when I did, as it has done me a world of good. I have taken two bottles of Tanlac and am now on my third. This statement of mine is therefore not hasty, but is based on ample proof. All the symptoms from which I have suffered have disappeared and I believe Tanlac has cured me. I am, however, going to keep on taking the medicine as I believe I will get better than I ever was in my life."

Tanlac is now sold in Clearfield exclusively by Woodward & McPherson, where the premier preparation can be had.

The Children's Aid will hold a cake sale at the George Rosser furniture store on Market street, Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. All members are urged to assist. $2-4t

DO YOU KNOW THAT—

Air brakes were first used on American passenger trains in 1868.

The total number of railroad employees in the United States is about 1,740,000.

More than 550,000 passenger cars are in use on railroads in the United States.

More than 2,500,000 cars of all classes are used by the railroads of this country.

The first vestibuled train was put into service on the Pennsylvania in 1866.

The first Pullman sleeping car was put into operation on the Chicago and Alton road in 1865.

The aggregate mileage of railway tracks of all kinds in the United States is nearly 380,000 miles.

The first railway to reach the Missouri river was the Hannibal and St. Joseph road, completed in 1859.

The swivelling truck for locomotives was first put into practical use on the Mohawk and Hudson railroad in 1831.

One of the first railroads in America was a gravity road constructed at March Run, Pa., for the transportation of coal.

One of the first American locomotives was built by the West Point, (N. Y.) Foundry for the South Carolina railroad, which was opened in 1830.

Three years after the Chicago and Alton road established its sleeping car service the first dining car was put into service on the same road.

The latest available figures show the total operating expenses of railroads in the United States to be in excess of $2,250,000,000 a year.

The first great trunk line system in America was the Cleveland and Toledo railroad, which established a continuous line of 1,000 miles between Boston and Chicago in 1853.

The first locomotive used in the United States was "The Stourbridge Lion," brought over from England and put into service on the Honesdale and Carlisle railroad in Pennsylvania in 1829.

The South Carolina railroad, which began operation between Charleston and Augusta in 1825, had a continuous line of 145 miles, which at that time was the longest line of railroad in the world.

The first passenger cars used on American railroads were of the English type. The modern American type of car with the aisle running through the center was first put into general use on the Baltimore and Ohio railroad in the early '50s.

The first railroad in America built expressly for carrying freight and passengers was the Baltimore and Ohio, which was regularly opened in 1827, after having been operated for a time as a horse-railroad. At the time of the opening the road had a total length of 14 miles.

QUESTION CRAZE SEIZES THE G.O.P.

Democratic WORLD Long Had Monopoly of This Idiocy But Opposite Party Is Infected.

Questionnaire No. 1—Will All the Wilson Notes Be at His Notification?—How Did Fool Free Trade Hit Your Line of Business Just Before the Battles Began?—When the War Babies Die Will You Weep at the Funeral?

The question habit grows. You may ask a question of any one. Why should the dear old public escape? Here are a few from The New York Sun for the man in the street:

Do you approve of the Rivers and Harbors loot?

Do you want four years more of watchful waiting with the National Guardsmen undergoing military training in a tropical climate in mid-summer?

Do you hold that the duty of the United States is to serve humanity and let its own citizens be killed and outraged?

Do you feel proud of notes with nothing behind them?

What do you think of the Vera Cruz adventure?

Would you like to have been an American soldier at Carrizal?

Do you love Carranza?

Do you believe in a financial regime conducted largely in the interest of one section of the country?

Do you desire to cut the Philippines loose in order that Japan may gobble them?

Do you want four more years of Daniels?

Do you approve of wrecking the diplomatic service to provide jobs for deserving Democrats?

Are you in favor of inflation?

Do you believe in preparedness for a flood of cheap European wares as soon as peace comes?

Have you noticed the significant increase of imports in the past year, despite the war?

How did fool free trade hit your line of business before August, 1914?

And your friends?

Were you all cheered up by the Underwood tariff bill?

Do you think the doubling of the income tax is fair while millions' worth of competitive imports come in free?

Where are you going to be when the war babies die and business slips back to the cold, hard, normal basis?

Can you conceive of any possible good to you or to the country from another Presidential term like the present one?

Will you perpetuate sectionalism, greed, ignorance, stupidity—general ineptitude in Congress?

ATTRACTS BUSINESS MEN.

Mr. Hughes has not tried to scare anybody, but has merely portrayed the errors of the present Administration and set forth certain principles on which the affairs of the country should be managed in the future.

There is a political logic in this portrayal, the culmination of which in the mind of the voter is expressed by the frequent remark:

"He is the kind of man we want to steer us through."

This has been said by many a business man. The qualities seen in Mr. Hughes are poise, a strong, sane mind, sincerity and a willingness to sacrifice life, physical or political, to the good of the country. Nor is there any question as to the quality of nerve to meet the emergencies of the four years beginning March 4, 1917.

Pity the Man Who Doesn't Advertise!

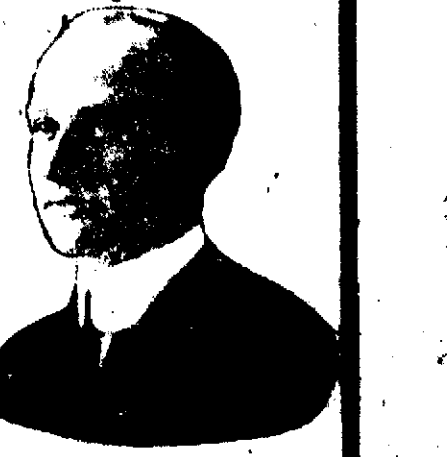

By EREEN.

"I have an established business. I don't require advertising."

That is the answer of some self-satisfied man to a request for advertising. Meanwhile his progressive neighbor is using printer's ink lavishly.

The result is obvious. It's only a question of time. The self-satisfied business man soon finds his track disappearing. His progressive neighbor goes ahead with leaps and bounds. Every business, no matter how firmly established, needs advertising. If it isn't advertised it soon will be in a rut.

PITTSBURGH TO CELEBRATE CENTENNIAL

Exercises to Commemorate 100 Years a City, Oct. 1-7

PAGEANTS TO SHOW HISTORY

Great Parade on October 6 is Expected to Be Greatest Demonstration in City's History—Pageants at Forbes Field Will Be Presented by 1,500 Performers and Chorus of 1,000 Voices.

Pittsburgh will, during the entire week October 1st-7th, have a great celebration of the Centennial of its incorporation as a city. The celebration will be under the auspices of The Historical Society of Western Pennsylvania, but the city and county authorities, business organizations and citizens generally are taking an active part in the arrangements.

It was in 1816 that Pittsburgh ceased to be a borough and became a city and the celebration is intended to commemorate the achievements of the community within the past hundred years, portray its present condition and forecast its future.

The program for the event is as follows:

Sunday, Oct. 1st—Religious Day: Special congregational, union and neighborhood services.

Monday, Oct. 2nd—Educational Day: Presentation of school local history prizes.

Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, Oct. 3rd, 4th, 5th—Pageant Days: Historical pageant in the evenings at Forbes Field by 1,500 performers and chorus of 1,000.

Friday, Oct. 6th—Civic, Greater Pittsburgh, G. A. R., Preparedness, Patriotic and Waterways Day: Great civic and military parade. Presentation of medals to pupils for essays on Lincoln by Sons of Veterans.

Saturday, Oct. 7th—Athletic Day: Football game at Forbes Field, Pitt vs. Westminster, and other sports.

All Week—Special Pittsburgh exhibits and music at Western Pennsylvania Exposition Society. Window exhibits of Pittsburgh-made goods by merchants. Exhibit of Pittsburgh historical pictures at Carnegie Art Galleries. Exhibit of Pittsburgh historical relics at Carnegie Museum. Exhibit of Pittsburgh books and musical compositions at Allegheny Carnegie Library.

Distinguished present and former residents of Pittsburgh will speak during the celebration. The members of the Pennsylvania State Editorial association will visit Pittsburgh during the week.

The great parade on Friday, Oct. 6th, promises to be the greatest in the history of the city, exceeding the notable one of the Sesqui-Centennial celebration of 1908.

Robert Garland, president of the Chamber of Commerce, is president of the parade committee and Colonel J. M. Schoonmaker, vice president of the Pittsburgh and Lake Erie railroad and a distinguished veteran of the Civil war, is to be chief marshal.

The magnificent historical pageant to be given at Forbes Field on the evenings of Oct. 3rd, 4th and 5th will be a most unique and interesting affair.

One thousand five hundred persons will participate in the pageant which will represent scenes in the history of Pittsburgh. There will also be a musical chorus of 1,000 persons. The pageant will be under the direction of Professor George M. P. Baird of the University of Pittsburgh, who has also written the scenario.

NOTICE.

The Spring Valley picnic will be held on the picnic grounds, Saturday, September 9th. Bring your basket and come enjoy the day. A festival will be held in the evening.

By Order of Committee.

NOTICE TO BIDDERS

The Board of Directors of the School District of Clearfield Borough hereby gives notice that it will receive sealed bids up to 7 o'clock p. m. of the 4th day of September, 1916, for furnishing coal for the school year 1916-1917 at the following school houses: Reedsville, Lehigh Grade, Central Grammar, New High School, Third Ward and Fourth Ward.

Bids will be received for the supply of any one building, or the supply at all the buildings. The right is reserved to reject any or all bids.

SAYS WE BECOME CRANKS ON HOT WATER DRINKING

Hopes Every Man and Woman Adopt This Splendid Morning Habit.

Why is a man and woman, half the time, feeling nervous, despondent, worried; some days headachy, dull and unstrung; some day really incapacitated by illness.

If we would all practice inside-bathing, what a gratifying change would take place. Instead of thousands of half-sick, anemic-looking souls with pasty, muddy complexions we should see crowds of happy, healthy, rosy-cheeked people everywhere. The reason is that the human system does not rid itself each day of all the waste which it accumulates under our present mode of living. For every ounce of food and drink taken into the system nearly an ounce of waste material must be carried out else it ferments and forms poisonous like poisons which are absorbed into the blood.

Just as necessary as it is to clean the ashes from the furnace each day, so the fire will burn brightly and so we must each morning clean inside organs of the previous day's accumulation of indigestible waste and body toxins. Men and women, whether sick or well, are advised to drink each morning, before breakfast, a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of lime-salt phosphate in it, as a harmless means of washing out the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels the indigestible material, waste, sour bile and toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.

Millions of people who had their turn at constipation, bilious attacks, indigestion, nervous days and sleepless nights, have become real cranks about the morning inside-bath. A quarter of a pound of limestone phosphate will not cost much at the drug store, but it is sufficient to demonstrate to everyone, its cleansing, sweetening and refreshing effect upon the system.

BRITISH SCIENTISTS MEET.

London, Ore., Sept. 5.—The British Association for the Advancement of Science began its annual meeting today at Newcastle. More than 2,000 scientists are attending the sessions.

AL. H. WILSON.

Al H. Wilson, the singing dialect comedian and a capable company will present the new Irish son play "My Killarney Rose" at the Opera House on Thursday.

This latest offering of Mr. Wilson was written by Mr. Herbert Winslow who has an enviable reputation as a writer of successful plays. The atmosphere of "My Killarney Rose" is purely Irish in character and is enhanced by appropriate stage settings and a number of electrical effects new to stage craft.

Around the plot of the play which is said to be ingenious, the author has supplied an interesting story through which is drawn well defined threads of pathos and comedy. This new departure from the former offerings of this favorite comedian bids fair to outrival in success anything he has heretofore produced, since it offers a new field for his versatility.

A number of new songs will be introduced during the action, the titles being, "My Killarney Rose," "The Love I Give to You," "Where the Shamrock Grows," "Mary Houlihan," and "The Yodel that Stole My Girl Away."

The prices will be 25, 50, 75c and $1.00. Seats on sale tomorrow.

RECIPE TO CLEAR A PIMPLY SKIN

Pimples Are Impurities Seeking an Outlet Through Skin Pores.

Pimples, sores and boils usually result from toxins, poisons and impurities which are generated in the bowels and absorbed into the blood through the very ducts which should absorb only nourishment to sustain the body. It is the function of the kidneys to filter impurities from the blood and cast them out in the form of urine, but in many instances the bowels create more toxins and impurities than the kidneys can eliminate, then the blood uses the skin pores as the next best means of getting rid of these impurities which often break out over the skin in the form of pimples.

The surest way to clear the skin of these eruptions, says a noted authority is to get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts and take a tablespoonful in a glass of hot water each morning before breakfast for one week. This will prevent the formation of toxins in the bowels. It also stimulates the kidneys to normal activity, thus coaxing them to filter the blood of impurities and clearing the skin of pimples.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia. Here you have a pleasant effervescent drink which usually makes pimples disappear; cleanses the blood and is excellent for the kidneys as well.

CONNECTICUT REPUBLICANS.

Hartford, Conn., Sept. 5.—Republicans of Connecticut gathered today and completed the work of organization of their State convention. Tomorrow the convention will complete its work by nominating a candidate for United States senator and a State ticket to be voted for in November. All indications point to the re-nomination of George P. McLean for the senatorship. Frank E. Healy of Winsor Locks, speaker of the lower branch of the legislature, is expected to lead on the first ballot for governor. Subscribe for The Progress.

MOSQUITO FLEET'S PROWESS BEING TESTED AT NEW YORK

New York, Sept. 5.—Uncle Sam's submarine hunters are going into action today. The navy's protectors against underwater craft, consisting mainly of motor boats of great speed, manned by volunteer seamen who own the boats, will have their first real test since their organization, when they are put through their paces under the eyes of government officers.

Maneuvers, which will end Sept. 12, will be held in Boston, Newport, New York and the Delaware capes. The senior naval officer present at each point will be in charge.

Probably the most interesting feature of the cruise will come on the third day, and will consist of maneuvers in mine sweeping, communications defense of battleships and protection of harbors from attacks by submarines.

Groups will leave their respective bases early in the morning and will proceed in the district to which they have been assigned to search for mines. When a mine is located it will be removed and the search will proceed until all have been located and loaded onto the boats.

On the fourth day the patrol boats will assemble with the battleships which have been assigned to take part in the maneuvers, and will form a screen to protect the big vessels from attacks by submarines.

This part of the United States fleet is being recognized as one of the most important since the advent of the submarine as a formidable weapon of offense in the European war. Recently trials were held with the United States patrol boats and they succeeded in theoretically destroying a United States submarine after it had submerged in plain view of them.

ROADS CONGRESS.

Lexington, Ky., Sept. 5.—Several hundred delegates, representing Florida, North Carolina, South Carolina, West Virginia, Alabama, Georgia, Virginia, Kentucky and Tennessee, were on hand today at the opening of the annual convention of the Southern Appalachian Good Roads association. Governor Rye of Tennessee, Governor Stanley of Kentucky and the road commissioners of a number of states are on the program for addresses during the three days' sessions.

John Deter motored to Bellefonte on Sunday and called upon an aunt that he had not visited for some time. He returned on Monday.

Reuben Robinson left today for Philadelphia and New York to investigate the latest fall styles and purchase his fall and winter stock of goods.

The dwelling houses occupied by S. J. Richard and Harry Hoover, on George street, have been repainted, which adds considerably to their appearance.

Raymond Young has rented the room lately vacated by H. Ducas, in the Sweeney block, and will open a barber shop and pool room within the next two weeks.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. Kramer, at their home in Maryville, Tenn., last Saturday, a daughter. The mother is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Arnold, of this place.

In December, 1913, the Curwensville postoffice had on record a postal savings fund of $1500. With the ending of the month of August, 1916, the record showed a fund of $12,415.

Miss Suplee, who has been in guest in the Kirk home for the past three weeks, left for her home in Philadelphia Sunday, being accompanied by Fred Kirk, who had come up from the city for a week end visit with his mother, Mrs. A. M. Kirk.

Joseph Serf had a warrant issued Saturday evening for the arrest of one Joseph Lupola, charging him with assault and battery. At the hearing the justice could not see wherein the man had been assaulted, hence he discharged the prisoner and affixed the costs to the plaintiff's account.

The High School boys are getting into shape for the football season. So enthusiastic have they become that a partial organization has been made with Orvil King as captain and Saul Robinson as manager. The squad expects to get in shape to commence a regular practice sometime during the week.

Orvis R. Gulich and Miss Nora P. Carlson of Clearfield, were married by Rev. I. P. Hawkins, of this place, last Saturday forenoon at 11 o'clock, at the home of the officiating minister. The happy couple left immediately for a tour in the eastern cities. They will make their home in Clearfield.

D. C. Henschbarger went to Glen Hope where he has been engaged to put in some new abutments and repair others under the old covered wooden bridge at that point. This is one of the oldest passageways in the county, having been built over seventy years ago, and the timbers are as sound today as when the structure was erected.

By observing the following figures it will be noticed that the financial condition of Curwensville borough is in a healthy and prosperous state. With the ending of August the cash on hand from the different departments is as follows: Light, $1323.32; Loan, $591.98; Paving, $1157.51; Road, $2021.42; Water, $697.62, footing up to a grand total of $5,791.87.

That Curwensville is still on the map and retains its reputation for entertaining visitors in royal style, is indicated by the large number of names on the hotel registers for the month of August. At the Park Hotel the registration numbered 585, while the New Central hotel footed up nearly 500 names. Not so bad a showing, and this does not include the guests who stopped at the different boarding Curwensville Construction company expect to complete the big street paving job at Mt. Union not later than October 1st. When the work is completed, there will be something over 13,000 square yards of it, taking over one half million bricks.

Labor Day was not generally observed in Curwensville, only by the suspension of work by most of the industries. A great many of the town's population sought other towns to enjoy themselves, while others took baskets of provisions and went to the "Pee-Wee's" nest park or to the woods and spent the day. Nearly all the stores closed their doors at noon and took a half holiday. Generally speaking, the town took on an appearance of a Sunday rather than a legal holiday. There were no disturbances of any kind during the day or evening.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

The water supply in our Moose Creek Storage Reservoir is about exhausted and until replenished by rain in the water shed of that reservoir we will experience difficulty in serving the higher elevations in the community.

We ask therefore that all water takers stop all wastes and prevent any and all unnecessary running of water to the end that the least interruption in service be had during the continuation of the dry spell of weather.

Early Showing of New Fall Apparel

The deft touches and fine appreciation of forms and color which go to the making up of character and individuality are revealed in their fullness in our

WOMEN'S APPAREL FOR FALL

It is the result of training which has developed artistic skill. It means a perfection of fit, of hang, of color harmony or color contrast which marks the difference between commonplaceness and distinction in dress. It has given a word to the languages of all nations. That word is "chic." Call it "smartness" if you will and perhaps it will be more clearly and easily understood.

That the purpose of this store is to show accuracy of line in every fashionable feature of woman's apparel is evident in all models embraced in this Early Fall Showing. It is distinctive.

LABOR.

Little Talks on Health and Hygiene by Samuel C. Dixon, M. D.

Man was intended to labor by the all wise Creator. Our mental and physical makeup is such that occupation is essential to continued well-being.

From the hunter, the fisherman and the rude agriculturist man has evolved a complicated civilization. There are thousands of occupations today in place of the few primitive ones but still the majority of these center about the fulfilling of the primary necessities, feeding and clothing mankind. It has become impossible for the laborer to work under the conditions which originally obtained. Besides the fields and forest we have mine, mill and mart.

Man has progressed mentally to a remarkable degree but we cannot say that of his physical development. However, his requirements are much the same as those of our remote ancestors. Sunlight, fresh air, pure water and physical exercise are absolutely essential to the maintenance of health.

If the conditions under which men and women labor do not make this possible they are detrimental to the individual and to society at large, for upon the health of its people depends the ultimate future of any nation. No machinery can entirely replace the sinews of labor.

To be healthy and happy we must love his work.

Ted Leitzinger spent the week end in St. Marys.

Railroad Embargo or Strike Will Not Stop Atlantic Gasoline Deliveries

Freight Embargo Order.

After a long conference in the morning between transportation and traffic officials the following announcement was made by the Pennsylvania Railroad:

In view of the pending nation-wide strike of the engineers, conductors, firemen and trainmen in the freight and yard services, the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, Baltimore and Washington Railroad Company and the West Jersey & Seashore Railroad Company have been compelled to issue the following embargo notices on freight, to apply to shipments from all points for all destinations:

Item 1. Effective at close of business Thursday, August 31, 1916, embargo all shipments of explosives and inflammables of every kind and description.

Item 2. Effective at close of business, Thursday, August 31, 1916, embargo all shipments of perishable freight, including live stock, dressed beef, live and dressed poultry and fresh fruits and vegetables.

Item 3. Effective at close of business Saturday, September 2, 1916, embargo all freight of all kinds from all points for all destinations.

We are prepared to meet conditions arising under the railroad embargo, which refuses all shipments of gasoline, effective September 1st, and during the threatened railroad strike.

There will be no interruption in deliveries of Atlantic Gasoline.

Our vast fleet of motor trucks will run night and day between our three refineries and Atlantic Service Stations, everywhere in Pennsylvania and Delaware.

This ability to supply the public with gasoline in a national crisis is made possible by our refineries at Philadelphia, Franklin and Pittsburgh, which have the most modern equipment in Pennsylvania; by pipe-lines which traverse the state; and by unrivaled delivery facilities—a part of the Atlantic Service.
